EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Interest on Increase—Large Congregations Attend Different Churches Nightly

The union evangelical services being held nightly at the different Protestant churches throughout the city continue to attract large congregations, and the interest in these meetings is on the increase if the attendance is any criterion.

At many of the churches visiting clergymen are assisting the pastors in these services and special sermons are being delivered each night.

The opening public service for the workshops of the city was held early this afternoon at the plant of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, Rev. Dr. E. V. Regester, pastor of the M. E. Church South, delivering an address to the employes at the plant.

It is expected that the services will be continued next week. Later a schedule of the meetings for the workshops will be announced.

Attending these services are many persons not identified with any church especially newcomers to the city and these people are cordially invited to attend the church of their choice.

RICHMOND THEATRE

"Mrs. Leffingwell's Boots," a Select Picture in which Constance Talmadge is presented by Lewis J. Selznick, comes to the Richmond Theatre tonight. It is one of the funniest stories ever written for the screen, concerning the trials and tribulations of a young wife who purchases what she believes to be the only existing pattern of a pair of slippers. However, there is one other pair in existence and when Mrs. Leffingwell's husband sees them in another man's room, he naturally mistakes them for his wife's. In the end the tangle is straightened out and the Leffingwells once more lead a happy life.

FORCE IS REORGANIZED

Board of Police Commissioners Elect Chief, Two Sergeants And Fourteen Privates—Six New Members Elected—Annual Inspection Tuesday.

The police force of the city was reorganized last night by the board of police commissioners with the election of a chief, two sergeants and fourteen privates. The election of one private was deferred until the next meeting. This was done by the board in accordance with an ordinance recently passed by the City Council.

Charles T. Good was re-elected chief and William J. Wilkinson and Wilmer H. Scott were re-elected first and second sergeants respectively. John T. Roberts, who was the third sergeant, was chosen private.

The board first elected all of the privates who were already on the force, numbering eight, after selecting the chief and two sergeants. They are as follows: Thomas Snellings, Samuel R. Reid, James N. Talbott, Julian T. Rawlett, Charles W. Bell, John W. Kerns, J. Christopher Gill and John T. Roberts.

Six new policemen were then chosen by the board as follows: Charles G. Miller, Walker Campbell, W. W. Campbell, they being former members of the force; Carlton A. Padgett, P. L. Magner and Haywood Durrer. Mr. Durrer for some time past has been acting as extra policeman, and the board elected him before selecting any of the new privates.

The meeting was presided over by Mayor Fisher and all of the members of the board were present. Nine applications for positions on the force were read and all of those who had applications in with the board who were present were called before the board and questiond by its members.

The newly elected policemen will be sworn in at 10 o'clock Saturday morning by Mayor Fisher and will assume their duty Saturday night.

It was decided to hold the annual inspection of the police force at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the police court room.

All of the newly elected policemen were informed by the board that they must do their duty and all be respectful to their superior officers.

The increased salary of the police is effective from Novmber 1.

The salary for the chief is $125 a month, the two sergeants $110 each and the privates $100 each.

GRAND THEATRE

James W. Gerard, former United States ambassador to Germany, was in close touch with William Nigh the director, throughout the filming of "My Four Years in Germany," which is the attraction at the Grand today. The first erformance started at 2 o'clock and the film will be repeated without intermission until 11 o'clock tonight in order that all may have an opportunity to see it. The same film will be shown again tomorrow from 2 to 11 p. m.

Anyone who has visited the Imperial German court and seen any of the men who appear on the screen will be almost justified in believing that the entire Imperial Court of Germany was imported for the express purpose of making this motion picture—so closely do the actors in the story resemble the men whose part they play.

DEATH OF VINCENT PITTMAN.

Vincent Pittman died at 3 o'clock this morning at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Samuel W. Pitts, 216 South Royal street.

He was a native of Northumberland county, Va.

In addition to his wife he is survived by Mrs. J. B. Griffin, Mrs. S. W. Pitts and E. N. Pittman.

SURRENDER OF FLEET

Twenty-Seven German Submarines Turned Over to Admirals of Allied Navies—Hun Officers Weep—British Officer Refuses to Extend His Hand to Enemy.

Harwich, Nov. 21.—Somewhere out in the misty expanse of the North Sea last night five big American battleships took up their positions in a fifty-mile line of greyhounds which early today witnessed the surrender of a powerful German surface fleet, under the eyes of King George, Admirals Beatty, Sims and Rodman, and a corps of more than 100 journalists and artists of all nations that immortalized with pen and brush the greatest naval display in all history.

Germany's sea surrender began at dawn yesterday, when twenty-seven U-boats gave up to Admiral Reginald W. Tyrwhitt's fleet of cruisers and destroyers thirty miles off this port and steamed into Harwich, led by British cruisers. Last night the undersea serpents, deprived of their sting, were anchored here under the Union Jack. Only meager crews, just sufficient to navigate them, took them out on their last journey under the German ensign, which was hauled down at the rendezvous. The German sailors were a sullen dejected lot.

They were eager to have the whole humiliating business over with. Few raised their eyes until they had at last boarded the German transport Nieraventans, which is to take them back to Germany.

Two of the German officers wept. Another raised his hand to shake with a British officer. The later refused. The German's hand fell limply to his side. He turned away, grimly muttering something in his native tongue.

As soon as the fleet of U-boats had arrived at the meeting place—first four divisions of five vessels each, then another of seven—Admiral Tyrwhitt and a party of officers from his flagship, the Curacao boarded the submarines one by one and searched them diligently for "booby traps."

RECITAL LAST NIGHT

"Victory Girls" of St. Mary's Academy Raise $110.25 for United War Work Campaign.

The recital by Edward Brigham, dramatic reader of New York, given last evening at St. Mary's Academy proved a delightful affair. Each poem in his groups carried a message happy and appropriate, sounding the key notes of pathos, prayer and patriotism, and yet the whole program was pleasingly interspersed with selections of refined honor, For close to two hours Professor Brigham held his audience sellbound.

The affair netted $110.25, which will be turned over to the Alexandria City War Work Fund by the "Victory Girl," among St. Mary's resident pupils. About fifty other pupils of St. Mary's Academy and St. Mary's Parochial school have pledged themselves to earn and turn in $5.00 a piece for the War Work Fund.

These pledges are to be redeemed on or before December 10, 1918.

SONG HIT NOW ON MARKET

The Camp Humphreys son, "You'll Like It," has at last made its appearance on the music counters of Alexandria. The soldier-author, Will F. Dillon, who is now a member of the "famous 606th," which was detrained at Camp Humphreys when enroute for France, was in town today. When the song-writer was asked where his outfit was located he replied, "Somewhere in the United States." Dillon says the top sergeant of Comany B and Capt. Roy Emerson, in command, are still hoping to take part in the doings across the pond in view of the fact that their regiment is composed of the pick of the engineers now on this side. Private Dillon gives Sergt. Cliff Lyons, of the Fifth E. T. R., credit for the popularity his song has attained.

The printing was done by the press of Harry W. Wade, this city.

A defective flue caused a slight fire at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Humphreys, 1105 Prince street. The fire was subdued with chemical extinguishers.

NOW TOTALS $18,000

Complete Returns From Sundays Drive for War Work Campaign Show $4,126 76 Yield—Since Then $1604 Additional Collected.

The drive Sunday for the United War Work Campaign which was a house to house canvass, by the solicitors, yielded $4,126.76. Of this amount $3,227.14 was in cash and $889.65 in pledges. The contributions have been pouring into the headquarters in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce since Sunday so that until today the total figures could not be compiled.

Since the result of this drive was computed, additional contributions amounting to $1,604 have been received from various sources.

Up to the present time the total contributions and pledges received amount to approximately $18,000 and the contributions are still coming in each day. The work of the committee in charge has been most satisfactory and those in charge are highly gratified at the liberal response on the part of citizens i helping to swell the fund foi the boys "Over There."

Robert S. Jones was chairman of the local committee.

FORCE REORGANIZED

There is at present but one vacancy on the police force of Alexandria, the Board of Police Commissioners having met last night and reorganized the force: Seventeen men were elected, most of whom are of the old force. Two new members were selected. The former chief and the two sergeants were re-elected.

For several months the force has been short of eight members, that number having resigned during the summer. Several of these were recalled to their former positions last night. The only vacancy existing will be filled at a future meeting.

For several months there have been virtually no patrolmen on duty during the day, those remaining on the force performing night duty exclusively. Fifteen soldiers from Camp Humphreys have been and are still viewing with the regular officers in preserving order. During the time the force has been depleted but few disorders have occurred. The Police Board told the members of the force last night that they will be expected to perform their duties to the satisfaction of the board as well as to the people of the community.

In this connection it may be proper to suggest that the latter is expected to uphold the hands of the officers of the law and not be ever ready to indulge in unjust criticism, which is too often the case. It is a common ocurrence when officers are summoned to quell disorders and bystanders to presume they are in position to give order to policemen, no matter what the latter attempt to do their action is opposed by those whose duty it is to vie with them in maintaining order. The absence of this spirit is sadly apparent on many occasions.

It is the duty of all citizens to act at times as policemen, and it is hoped that in future each man may realize his responsibility.

PRICES OF FISH

The price of haddock rose 93 per cent from 1915 to 1917, while increases of from 50 to 100 per cent were recorded on other varieties of ground fish, government attorneys asserted, when the hearing of the equity suit of the United States against forty-one wholesale fish dealers who are alleged to be conducting the fish business of New England in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act, was opened in Boston this week.

It was stated that the dealers control the ground fish business at the ports of Boston and Portland, and that 99 per cent of the ground fish consumed in the eastern part of the United States is landed at these places. The government asks that the alleged combination be dissolved.

In this connection it may be stated that fish have long since become a luxury in and about Alexandria. Common varieties, never known on the market in bygone years, are now strung up and offered for sale by dealers, while varieties of the finny tribe heretofore selling at extremely low prices are held at almost prohibitive figures.

In these comments we are not attacking local dealers, as most of the fish brought to this city come via Washington to which place they are brought on steamboats, and Alexandria dealers, in order to procure these essentials, must pay the prices obtaining in the capital city.

A comparison of prices of a few years ago with those now prevailing is interesting. It has not been so long ago when a bunch of salt water tailors could be obtained for twenty-five cents. The bunch sometimes would contain a dozen and a half. This species now bring 30 cents per pound. Flounders, butterfish, spots, fresh mackerel, etc., are sold at about the same figures. Sturgeon, whichyears ago sold at from 3 to 5 cents per pound, is now 30. The scarcity of this fish may be urged as an excuse for such rates.

But Labrador herring and mackerel, heretofore sold at reasonable prices, have soared considerably of late. Mackerel which years ago sold at 3 and 4 cents each now bring from 30 to 40 cents.

PRESENT DAY TEUTONS

An exchange wants portraits of the terrible Teutons as they really look today. The world has been fed upon fierce faces for many years. The family album which proud Prussians have been so fond of showing to timid strangers began with Uncle Otto Bismarck. Uncle Otto never smiled.

As the pages of the album were turned for us the thought struck in that all the other members of the family had sedulously simulated the Uncle Otto look. The young and bumptious Emperor, who early pushed Uncle Otto out of the focus point of the camera into and beyond the fake scenery in the background, nevertheless perpetrated his fashion of physiogomy. At least, he did the best he could. He was always the stern king of kings. Of course, when the Crown Prince came later there was a break. Nobody expected much of him. To offset his weak grin, Potsdam generals were ordered to look their fiercest when they were having their pictures taken. Hindenburg proved to be simply wonderful in this department and so he was made head of the army.

Whenever, during the period of our watchful waiting, Americans evinced a disposition to tour Europe in khaki, the Imperial German Government struck off millions of lithographs of Hindenburg's horrific head and put them where we could see them. It was a great idea, while it lasted.

But now we'd like our artists in portraiture to have access to the originals. If those generals and kings and things can be kept in one place long enough we do hope our photographers will snap them, and let us have a look at them.

"DER TAG"

Grand Admiral von Tirpitz, now a fugitive in Switzerland, the only country of Europe whose ships were not sunk by the submarines, denied that there was any practice in the German navy of drinking to "Der Tag," meaning "The Day" when the German navy should meet the British navy and send it to the bottom of the sea.

The Philadelphia Record says that toast was mentioned by Professor Usher in his book on Pan-Germanism, published before the war, and it happens to be embedded in Lissauer's Hymn of Hate. It is idle for any German to pretend that this toast is an invention of the enemy. The German naval officers have for years been drinking to "Der Tag" when they should meet the British fleet.

"Der Tag" has arrived. This is The Day. Thursday, November 21, 1918. A detail of German officers and seamen meet the representatives of the British, American and French fleets to haul down the German flags and see the flags of the Allies and Americans raised over about half of the heavy fighting ships of the German navy. The surrender of the entire submarine fleet of Germany, which was to starve England, sink American transports and bring the world to its knees, is already in progress. The delivery of some of this piratical fleet is reported.

As our contemporary says, frightfulness did not save Germany. Ruthlessness did not save Germany. All the unlawful and inhuman practices which Germany justified on the ground that they were useful to it, and therefore sanctioned by the moral law expounded by Treitschke, Nietzschhe and Bernhardi, have proved to be the most disastrous things Germany could have done. They are not even justified by their usefulness, for they have not been useful to Germany; they hav proved the millstone around the neck of that hardened sinner, which have sunk it in the ocean of disgrace and disaster.

COMING THANKSGIVING DAY

One week from today the people of the United States will observe our annual Thanksgiving Day. The nation has much for which to be thankful this year.

"Giving thanks alway" is a biblical injunction, and Thanksgiving Day of 1918 should appeal to all. The Pilgrim Fathers in the wilds of New England plod through snow and faced the keen wintry winds to reach their log house places of worship where they expressed their gratitude to the bounteous Giver of All for the privilege of enjoying religious liberty.

A great republic has grown up on this continent since the days of the Pilgrims. It is properly termed the land of the free and the home of the brave. Our country has nobly participated in throwing back and defeating a nation which was inimical to all forms of political liberty, a nation now smarting under signal defeat. Next Thursday should be the time to express our sincere thanksgiving that our country is no longer to be threatened by the iron heel of despotism.

President Wilson in his recent proclamation said, among other things:

"God has in His good pleasure given us peace. It has not come as a mere cessation of arms, a relief from the strain and tragedy of war. It has come as a great triumph of Right Complete victory has brought us, not peace alone, but the confident promise of a new day as well, in which justice shall replace force and jealous intrigue among the nations. Our gallant armies have participated in a triumph which is not marred or stained by any purpose of selfish aggression. In a righteous cause they have won immortal glory and have nobly erved their Nation in serving Mankind."

LETTER FROM THE MAYOR

"The health law of the city as approved July 1912 in its very first section provides as follows:

Section 1. There shall be in September, 1912, and every two years thereafter, elected by the City Council, a Health Officer, whose term of office shall begin the first day of the following October and who shall be a practicing physician. He shall inspect the city twice a month from April to September, and once a month for the balance of the year, visiting all localities suspected of being unhealthy or exposed to disease. He shall suggest to the Board of Health such measures as he shall think fit to preserve the health of the city and especially to prevent the introduction and spread of infectious and contagious diseases, and to prevent or regulate the pursuit of callings prejudicial to the public health or comfort. He shall also consider and report upon all such matters as may be referred to him by the Board of Health, and make monthly reports to the said Board of Health, of his proceedings. He shall receive for his services as such health officer, the sum of six hundred ($600) dollars per annum, payable in monthly installments on warrants drawn by the Auditor, which shall be in lieu of all fees including fees as registrar of vital statistics.

Now, assuming that Dr. R. L. Wood, is, as required in this section "A Practicing Physician" in this city and he is not) and every one knows he does not claim to be, as his position and duties in the U. S. Army certainly claim much of his time.

On Tuesday night Nov. 12 an ordinance to amend the ordinance of July 912 was introduced and referred to the Finance and Health Committees. This brings us to a consideration of the action of the City Council in Joint Session. Dr. R. L. Wood was elected. If his election was legal it was under the section hereinbefore quoted, and not the ordinance referred to the two committees, which seeks to amend the old law as is shown by its language as follows: "A Health Officer who shall be the same person who at that time is the United States Medical Officer in charge of the United States Public Health Service of the City of Alexandria, Virginia, and the Deputy State Health Officer for the City of Alexandria, Virginia." The words last quoted are the proposed important amendment to section 1 of the health laws and under which it is supposed Dr. Wood was elected on Tuesday, November 12. Council in this way sought to make operative a law, not even passed—only referred. Again Dr. Wood asks Council to elect Dr. Garvey deputy, or assistant Health Officer, and the original health law still in force as it has not been amended or repealed directs the Health Officer to appoint a deputy and submit such name to Council for confirmation or non-confirmation."

It might be urged that electing or confirming the deputy are the same in intent. Be that as it may, the law of 1912 is still in force. Dr. Wood, if eligible and ready to qualify, must do so as other officials, and perorm the duties under present laws. I will not be a party to placing a United States soldier in charge of our domestic affairs. The war is over, and we should return to the control of our own affairs and problems. It might be that the City Council will not agree with me in this matter, but I intend to try to be a diseret check on such things. Perhaps I will fail and the people be comelled to ay a few more Ten thousand $10,000.00) dollars before they conclude to wake up."

"Thomas A. Fisher, Mayor."

YANKS IN LUXEMBURG

Make Formal Call Upon Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide—Mayor Visits American Commander—Long Columns of Troops in Every Direction

All of Luxemburg, the small grand duchy lying between France and Germany, swarms with American soldiers today.

The doughboys have entered the capital and General Pershing announced that they would make a formal call upon Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide, the ruler, at noon.

The mayor of the capital paid a visit to General Dickman, commander of the American army of occupation. Everywhere one looks there are long columns of marching troops passing in every direction.

The American lines of communication and supplies are working with the regularity of clockwork. Thousands of negroes are at work repairing the broken roads, filling up shell holes and mending the railways.

True to their happy traditions the negroes sing lustily as they work. The main railway line, supplying the American army of occupation on the Rhine, is almost completed. It will be done in a few days. The soldier-workmen have been laying more trackage in a single day than an ordinary gang of section hands could put down in a month.

The American army of occupation is now standing on the soil of four countries—France, Belgium, Luxemburg, and German Lorraine.

GERMANS MUST SHOW WORTH

Must Make it Known by Actions That Views Have Changed, Declares Lord Reading

London, Nov. 21.—"Germany in the end gave way, not because she had changed her views, but because she knew she was absolutely beaten," said Lord Reading, in an address delivered at a meeting here in which he discussed Dr. Solf's recent pleas for mercy.

"The German who is now anxious to fall in with the views of our country," he continued, "has yet to show by his actions, and not merely by one day or two days or one year or two years, that the whole spirit of Germany has changed as we wished it to change before we can ever believe in our hearts that the Germans have changed from what they were before the war."

East of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers the new rates on merchandise will be about 15 to 17 cents a hundred pounds more than at present. The increase on food rates will be about 75 per cent as much.

For the remainder of the country the merchandise rate will be increased about 10 to 12 cents a hundred pounds over the present scale and the increase in food rates will be proportionately 75 per cent. The increases, it was announced are due to increase in wages, and become effective January 1

The new order will raise about $24,000,000 additional revenue, half of which the American Railway Express Company, before it was taken over entirely by the government, had planned to distribute among its employes in higher wages. The wage question is now before the railroad administration's board of wages and working conditions.

CUTS MAN'S THROAT

Barber Makes Murderous Assault on Father-in-Law

Intervention of "in-laws" in a family scrap led Aretonio Di Beneto, in his barber shop at 235 Eleventh street southeast, Washington, to cut the throat of Jacob A. Kroon, of 139 N street southeast, late yesterday afternoon.

Di Beneto was quarreling with his wife, it is alleged, when his wife's father, Jacob Kroon, attempted to interfere. This interference was frequent and Di Beneto became enraged and cut the throat of the father with a razor before his wife according to the story told later to the police. No other witnesses were present.

Di Beneto then ran out of the barber shop and into Police Inspector Sanders who nabbed the man when he saw that he was covered with blood. Di Beneto said that he was hurrying for an ambulance. Inspector Sanders hailed a passing automobile and took the whole party to the Casualty Hospital.

Kroon gasped a few times after his arrival at the hospital, but was unable to speak. He died within a few moments.

NEWS OF THE DAY

A circular letter was issued by the War Department yesterday, on order of the President, directing how all officers of the army not in the regular establishment shall be discharged from the service. About 160,000 officers are effected by the order.

Up to October 31, 1,580,000 German soldiers were killed and the fate of 26,000 was not known, the Vorwaerts of Berlin says it learns on reliable authority. Four million soldiers had been wounded, some several times. The newspaper adds that there were 400,000 German prisoners in hostile countries.

An investigation has disclosed that of 13,672 soldiers captured by the Turks 3,290 died, and of 2,222 others, no trace has been found. It is believed they perished as a result of fiendish treatment at the hands of the Turks. It is known that many were flogged during a 500-mile march through the desert. In any question of provisioning Germany the British government will be obliged to take into account the conditions under which British prisoners in Germany are being released, unless the cruel treatment which such prisoners are receiving is discontinued, the German government has been warned in a wireless message.

A resolution adopted by the Cleveland, Ohio, presbytery, of the United Presbyterian Church, insists on the punishment of the kaiser before peace terms are signed. The text of the resolution, which was voted to be sent to President Wilson, follows: "In view of the awful atrocities committed by the kaiser and his military coherts, we insist that they be tried before a court of justice and punished for their crimes before peace terms are signed."

The American steamship Ixion was loaded at Baltimore yesterday with the largest crop of wheat ever sent from this port. It takes out 440,500 bushels, which tops all previous records by several thousand bushels When the cargo is delivered, it is said the Ixion will be used as a transport to bring back some of the American expeditionary forces. The boat is equipped for this purpose. The shipment was made by the wheat export corporation.

Gen. Sir Henry S. Rawlinson has issued the following order to the British Fourth army: "When you cross the German frontier you will show the world that British soldiers, unlike Germany, do not wage war on women and children or the old and weak." The general appeals to his troops to carry out the spirit as well as the latter of the allied guarantees for the protection of private property. He asks the soldiers to do all in their power to mitigate the hardships of the population in the liberated French and Belgian territories.

THE "SCARLET LETTER"

Hawthorne's Well-Known Story Brought Vividly to Mind in Belgium

Bruges, Belgium, Nov. 21.—This is the story of how the "Scarlet Letter" has come to Belgium delivered: The ancient Puritan savagery of torture, born again with all its former acuteness of mental punishment, intensified by the bitterness of a people four years under the heel of the foe.

Of all the poignant tragedies attending the deliverance of Belgium from slavery and the return of soldiers to heaps of brick that they may identify as home, perhaps none has so much of the pure Greek essence of tragedy as this story of the "Scarlet Letter" revived to point a people's scorn.

But in Bruges and Ostend, that have come back into the sunlight these last few weeks with the pushing back of the German glacier, the mark of shame is not branded on the shoulder with a hot iron as in Hawthorne's epic Shears instead of a branding iron are the implements used. The pilloried one has her hair shorn close above her ears, that she may carry the mark of scorn for years before nature herself blots out the ignominy

In the fish market of Bruges three hapless girls who had been in hiding during the weeks since the last German soldier quit the city, ventured out to buy food, A shrewish fish vender recognized one of them as a former resident of a little village on the Bruges outskirts who had run away with a German soldier in 1915.

"There is a Boche's sweetheart," the fishwife screamed in Flemish. The one accused and her two companions attempted to flee, but they were surrounded instantly by a clawing, screaming mob of women and sneering men. Their clothes were torn from their backs until they stood only in their undergarments. Then while hungry hands tore the pins from their hair, shears bit heavy tresses. The three hysterical, weeping girls, cringing in their attempts to hide their seminudity, finally were rescued from their tormentors by a Belgian city patrol and conducted to a merciful refuge.

Similar instances have occurred both in Bruges and other cities during the first week of deliverance. In Bruges a mob sacked several establishments which German officers had created for themselves and had adorned with stolen paintings and furnishings. The women had warning of the impending wrath and escaped manhandling. But out of the windows flew satins and lingerie, porcelains and handsome oils—all the plunder which the Boche had used to adorn his hours of dalliance.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Charged with refusing to register for military service on September 12, Thomas M. Marple, 37 years old, manager of a large sawmill near Rock Enon Springs, was arrested Tuesday night. His defense is that the Bible does not countenance wars and drafts and the other machinery connected therewith.

Deputy Sheriff J. B. Anderson, Sullivan county, was probably fatally wounded late Tuesday night when he was shot three times by two men whom he arrested on a charge of stealing an automobile. The bullets penetrated his hip and severed an artery. His assailants made their escape.

Gray Loyd was fined $500 and sentenced to twelve months in jail on the charge of involuntary manslaughter in the Roanoke police court this week, Judge Beverly Berkeley holding that Loyd was driving the car which struck and fatally injured Norman Lee Hoy, two and one half year old son of A. W. Hoy.

The United States destroyers Dahlgren and Goldsborough were launched yesterday at the plant of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company. The former was christened by Mrs. Josiah Pierce, daughter of Admiral Dahlgren, who had for her maids of honor Mrs. Frank E. Johnson, of Washington, a grand daughter of Abraham Lincoln, and Mrs. Corbin, wife of Gen. Henry C. Corbin, U. S. A.

Miss Rosa Farmer, of near Bocock, Campbell county, was attacked and then choked to death some time Tuesday night in the woods near her home. Her body, badly bruised and the surrounding ground showing evidence of the young woman's struggle, was found early Wednesday morning by neighbors. Miss Farmer left her home Tuesday afternoon to visit rabbit traps nearby, and when she had not returned at night a search was instituted.

Henry White, of Fredericksburg, was accidentally shot through the stomach by a pistol belonging to his brother, Charles White, one night this week. Charles, who is employed in a boiler-room of an institution in Fredericksburg, was at work when his brother, Gillis Weedon and a small boy dropped in to see him. Charles White placed his pistol, which was not loaded, on a table while he was fixing his fires for the night. The boy, unobserved, loaded the pistol, and when they were preparing to leave, Charles White picked it up, not knowing it had been loaded, and in some way the gun was discharged.

Two men are dead while a third is seriously wounded, following a fight that began over a dog near Fredericksburg this week. Joe Wingfield, Morton Wingfield and James McLeod comprised a hunting party to the woods of Spotsylvania county. They saw a dog belonging to Abner Wigglesworth, a negro, chasing sheep. Meeting up with the latter they informed him of the dog's damage, whereupon the negro is said to have become very much enraged. Some time later the party was startled by the report of a gun and Joe Wingfield fell to the ground with a mortal wound in the back of his head. He died almost instantly. The report of the gun caused the horse Wigglesworth was riding to jump, throwing the negro. McLeod clinched with him. In the fight which ensued Morton Wingfield was struck over the head with the gun by Wigglesworth, but succeeded in getting the weapon and dealing the negro a death blow, crushing his skull.

NO PEACE TO DRAFT DODGERS

New York, Nov. 21.—Draft dodgers are to receive no benefit from the coming of peace. Unlike the espionage act, it was declared at the office of the federal attorney, the draft act will not run out with the signing of a peace treaty.

Dodgers who fled to Mexico and elsewhere, to evade the draft will find the hand of the law heavy, should they ever venture back on American soil, it was stated.

A colony of draft dodgers has been located at Mazatlan, Sinaloa, Mexico, by government officers. One of the dodgers traced there was said to be Charles Francis Phillips, the Columbia university student Pacifist.
